Course information
With spring in the air, what a great time to celebrate by creating your own March hare in wool. This workshop is a great introduction to needle felting. Learn how to sculpt with fleece to create the limbs of the hare and how to attach them all together. As you work through the process you can choose the pose for your hare to create a characterful and sculptural figure. Once you have created a hare you will be able to make other woodland animals which Gill will talk you through & show samples.

Gillian Ferguson studied textile design at the University of Ulster and worked as a textile designer in the textile print industry for 15 years. She now works as a surface pattern designer and art educator from her studio in Silverdale. Gill has extensive experience of a wide range of felting techniques, including wet felt, Nuno and Needle felting and has delivered workshops in a number of different venues.
